Alfred Nason, 28, of Bath was killed and Paul Pinkham, 28, also of Bath was injured when their car overturned at Lisbon Saturday afternoon. Pinkham, owner of the car, was booked at the Lewiston police station on an intoxication charge.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth are receiving ceremonial welcomes as they tour Canada. For the first time in history, Canada sees the King and Queen sit upon the thrones.

Queen Mary is suffering from bruises and shock, the result of an accident Tuesday, when her automobile overturned in a collision with a truck in a London suburb.

The Navy's newest submarine, Squalus, sank in 240 feet of water off Portsmouth Tuesday, with a crew of 59 men, including officers. Thirty-three have been rescued and it is believed 26 are dead.

LEGION AUXILIARY RECEIVES FLOWERS FOR POPPY DAY

Bright red poppies bloomed out today at the American Legion headquarters when the American Legion Auxiliary received its supply of the World War Memorial flowers for Poppy Day, Saturday, May 27. The poppies, hundreds of carefully made replicas of the famous poppies of France and Belgium, came from Togus, where they were made by disabled war veterans.

The Auxiliary's Poppy Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Mabel O'Brien, chairman, is putting in busy hours counting and arranging the flowers in readiness for the women who will offer them on the streets on Poppy Day, to be worn in honor of the World War dead. Preparations are being made to cover the entire town with the flowers, with the hope that everyone will join in the observance of the day and pay tribute to those who gave their lives in defense of democracy.

"Each poppy has been shaped with painstaking care by some disabled veteran," said Mrs. O'Brien. "Each one is slightly different from the others because they are made entirely by hand. Some are more perfect than others due to the varying skill of the veterans, but all represent the best efforts of their makers to reproduce in crepe paper the wild Flanders poppy which grew and bloomed along the battle front in France and Belgium.

"The idea of the poppy as the memorial flower for the war dead sprang naturally to the minds of the men in France when they saw these brave little flowers blooming on the bare battle graves. Colonel John McCrea expressed it in his immortal poem, and one of the first acts of the American Legion was the adoption of the poppy as its memorial flower. The British Legion also adopted the poppy and the flower is worn in every part of the world to commemorate the sacrifice of those who fell in the ranks of the democratic powers."

SUPERINTENDENT HONORED

On Tuesday of this week, Miss Ida Packard, superintendent of the Congregational Sunday School, was given a party in Garland Chapel.

Tibbitts and Miss Jane Chaplin, were served a six o'clock supper by Mrs. John Poole, Mrs. Henry Bennett and Mrs. Kenneth Wight.

In appreciation of Miss Packard's faithful and long service she was presented a leather purse. Games were enjoyed.

BRYANT POND YOUNG MAN TAKES LIFE IN CAR

The body of Edward Forbes of Bryant Pond was found shot in the region of the heart and left lung a mile and a half from Bryant Pond Monday forenoon. There was no evidence of foul play and Sheriff Fernando Francis declared the death to be suicide. The body was in a car by the roadside. There were two notes in the car signifying his intention of committing suicide.

Edward James Forbes was the son of George and Amy Thompson Forbes, and was born in Woodstock July 29, 1918. He was a graduate of Woodstock High School. He was employed as a salesman for the Hoover Vacuum Cleaner Co. in Massachusetts.

Besides his parents, he is survived by four brothers, George Jr. of West Paris, Alec of Boston, and William and Douglas of Bryant Pond; and two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Coburn of West Paris and Miss Rachel Forbes of Norway.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Andrews funeral home, South Woodstock. Interment was at Lakeside Cemetery, Bryant Pond.

CAROLYN BRYANT RECEIVES SERIOUS EYE INJURY

Carolyn Bryant, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Bryant, is reported today as being comfortable at the St. Louis Hospital, Berlin, where she was taken late Wednesday afternoon after being struck in the right eye by a batted baseball. Miss Bryant was watching a game between grammar school teams at the fair grounds.

She was given first aid by Dr. Harry Wilson and then removed to Berlin, where she underwent an operation performed by Dr. R. J. Ingalls. Pieces of glass from the spectacles she was wearing at the time were removed from the eye. It will not be known for several days whether or not the sight will be affected.

Besides the serious eye injury, she suffered a fractured nose.

BROOKS AND TUCKER ELECTED CO-CAPTAINS OF BASEBALL

The lettermen of the baseball team of Gould Academy met Monday afternoon after school to elect a captain for the current year. The result of the first ballot was a tie between Maurice Brooks and Carl Tucker and it was then voted to leave it that way and have Co-Captains for the year.

These two men represent the two opposites in baseball. Tucker, a junior, has been on the team for three years and has been one of the leading hitters each year. Brooks, who graduates this year, has done it the hard way. He played two years on the "B" team and only this year was able to make the grade but has developed into the leading pitcher on the squad. In every game he has pitched the opponents have had difficulty in solving his baffling change of pace ball. His toughest loss of the year was last Saturday when he held the Fryeburg team to one run but his teammates couldn't get a single scoring opportunity.

Paul E. Browne has been elected to present the gifts to the senior class men at the annual Class Day Exercises on June 9 as part of the commencement at the University of Maine. He is president of the Senior Skulls, member of Alpha Zeta and the Agriculture Club.

The Garden Club held their exchange meeting at Garland Chapel Wednesday afternoon in charge of Mrs. Jack Chapman. Mrs. Emma Van Den Kerckhoven will be the hostess at the next meeting, which will be held June 14. All members who can possibly attend, are urged to do so, as the flower show is to be discussed.

BLACK FACED MUNSTRELS PACK HALL TWO NIGHTS AT WEST PARIS

Starring an all male cast with Mrs. Cella Lamb as accompanist, the Black Faced Munstrels of West Paris played to a full house on May 11th and on May 19th packed the Grange Hall to the stairs—all standing room taken.

The minstrel show, coached and staged by Conrad Lamb, featured an old fashioned plantation scene with Russell Moulton, interlocutor, taking the part of the old Southern Colonel.

On behalf of the cast, Mr. Moulton presented Mrs. Cella Lamb a gift in appreciation of her splendid help. Afterwards, Mr. Moulton read a letter from Stanley M. Andrews, chairman of the Alumni Entertainment Committee, in which he thanked the "cast" and "the folks" for making things a tremendous success.

Winners of the Gymnasium hop on the 19th were: hope chest, Tom Dyer, West Paris; fishing rod, Eileen Pratt, West Paris; camera, W. H. Wood, Portland. The Parisians furnished music for a dance after the show.

STOLEN RUMFORD CAR RECOVERED AT SONGO

The 1939 Chrysler Imperial sedan of Jack Plavin of Rumford, stolen Thursday night, was discovered Friday evening by John Harrington at Fritz Tyler's camp at Songo Pond. He at once notified Deputy Sheriff F. A. Hunt of Bethel. It was apparent that the car had been abandoned but a short time, and examination showed that it had been occupied by Arthur Malley of Rumford. Authorities at Rumford were notified and Malley was taken into custody late that night. Lloyd Biden of Mexico was taken by Sheriff Hunt in Bethel village Saturday morning, and both Malley and Biden were in the Rumford Municipal Court before Judge A. E. Stearns that day. They were charged with stealing a car, breaking and entering, and are held under bonds of $2000 each for the June term of Court.

Besides the Tyler camp, the camps of A. B. Kimball, J. W. Carter and Homer Bishop at Songo Pond were broken into last week. The Plavin car was not harmed.

MRS. JOHN L. HOLT

Mrs. Fannie R. Holt passed quietly away at the home of her devoted son, William G. Holt, at East Bethel Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Holt was born in Upton May 4, 1852, the daughter of Joshua G. and Mary N. D. Rich. Most of her girlhood was spent in Upton, later moving to Greenwood with her parents, and on March 8, 1873, she was united in marriage to John L. Holt of that place. They resided in Greenwood, later moving to East Bethel, where she has since lived. Mr. Holt died July 3, 1933.

Mrs. Holt was the oldest member of the Bethel Congregational Church.

Survivors include besides her son, William G. Holt; a daughter, Mrs. Irving Kimball, Boston; two brothers, Alanson Rich, Canton Point, and Elliott Rich, Bethel; a sister, Mrs. Bessie I. Sloane, Bethel; eight grandchildren; four great grandchildren; several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at her old home in East Bethel Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock with Rev. H. T. Wallace officiating. Interment was in the East Bethel cemetery.

SCHOOL PLAY DAY NOT TO BE HELD THIS YEAR

Many inquiries have come from different communities asking if the schools were to have a Play Day this year. It is gratifying to know that so many parents and citizens are interested in this part of the school health program.

Due to several reasons it does not seem advisable to hold a Play Day this year. In three of the five towns of the school union there are contagious diseases including mumps, chicken pox and whooping cough. To hold a Play Day would doubtless lead to the spreading of these diseases.

The Gould Academy athletic field, where more than 500 children were gathered last year, is not available this year due to its condition as the result of the late season. This is the most central and convenient place for such an event.

It is earnestly hoped that nothing will prevent the holding of a successful Play Day next year.

Many of the schools will, during the next two weeks, devote a part of an afternoon to a health and play program on their own grounds. Recognition of the seven-point pupils will be made at this time.

The Holland Tunnel, which is the oldest of the three Hudson River crossings, connects Jersey City with lower Manhattan. The recently constructed Lincoln Tunnel is easily reached from N. J. State Highways 1 and 3, and provides a direct entrance into the midtown or Times Square section of Manhattan. The George Washington Bridge crosses the Hudson River between Fort Lee and the uptown or Washington Heights part of Manhattan.

New England Town Meetings Really True Democracy

President of Maine Senate Makes Novel Announcement

Augusta—Many who consider the old New England town meeting as the truest form of democracy, not government by special groups or minority blocs, may see much to approve in the attitude of Maine's World War ace, Senator Sumner Sewall of Bath, President of the Maine Senate and a descendant of the Sewall family which contributed so largely to bringing Maine into prominence as the leader in the days of the square riggers, when American ships and American sailors dominated trade in many of the world's largest and most important ports.

The town meeting idea, in a most unusual form, is brought out in a letter which this week Mr. Sewall has sent members of the served for themselves during these recent difficult years, a relatively high measure of real democracy and sovereignty, and that by and large our laws today represent a most sincere and honest attempt to evaluate and carry out the wishes of our citizens.

But I also believe that good government, like sound progressive business, must periodically take inventory of its stock in trade and re-survey the needs of its people. Certainly, in the Air Transport business with which I am associated, we do not embark on new policies, nor long continue old ones, without making careful and scientific surveys of the changing needs of our customers and of our ability to adequately serve them.

During the next few months, therefore, I intend to use some of these well-tried business methods to poll the public opinion of Maine on various State questions. It is my belief that by the extension of this established business technique into the field of politics we shall learn more of the real opinions of our people than ever before.

You and I know that one of the most difficult tasks confronting a Legislator is to distinguish between real majorities and small articulate minorities. If, by the use of this new method of measuring public opinion, we can more clearly and correctly determine the size of these various conflicting groups, it seems to me that we will obviously be in position to better carry out the wishes of the true majority of our people and thus make real contribution to the democratic process of government in Maine.

Democracy has recently been described as "The guarantee of minority rights under majority rule," and again, as a variation of Lincoln's famous definition "Democracy expresses not only the citizens' right,--a government for the people but also the citizens' responsibility,--a government of and by the people." By modernizing our political methods as suggested, I believe we can now come nearer to living up to these splendid ideals than ever before.

Today by virtue of programs already submitted and adopted by the Legislature, our State Government is extending aid to, cooperating with, or trying to control in the public interest, nearly every group of citizens in Maine. To my mind, therefore, it is certainly not new programs that we need but rather a refinement of our present programs.

We must energetically re-examine the real public usefulness of the many services which we are now rendering and openly review the cost of each. We must enlist in our active ranks the powerful aid of the very broadest possible public opinion in order to effectively determine which of our countless activities really have broad public support and which do not, to the end that the essential and worth-while functions may be extended and enlarged while the others can be curtailed or actually eliminated.

I am profoundly convinced that by these means we shall accomplish real and sound economy in government. In this way we shall strengthen the forces of true democracy and good government, under which alone industry and employment thrive, opportunity and security exist and fairness to all prevails.

Needless to say, I realize that it is always easy to promise but often difficult to accomplish, and in the accomplishing of these objectives, I shall need the broadest possible support. I most earnestly hope I shall have yours.

Most sincerely,
SUMNER SEWALL

"THEY TELL ME"

Elbert Hubbard wrote a nice little piece years ago on the idea of Get In Line or Get Out. I think there is something in the Bible about the same subject, and probably the Greeks had a word for it too. But there ain't many things that wouldn't be fixed up better by trying to come to an understanding with the fellow you're peeved at.
Instead of crabbing around to your pals about it. This free airing of pet disgruntlements likely does relieve the party that does the blowing off, until perhaps he thinks later that he put it a little too strong, but it's too late then. This isn't laid out for a sermon but we would all be more comfortable if more something gossip could be provided, and most of the time it would be as well all around. Remember Mr.
Shakespeare said it is easier to tell 20 people how to do it than to do it yourself. Uncle Hiram

SPRING BLOSSOMS

Blossoms add a charming seasonal quality to your springtime snapshots. Make a collection of such snaps this year—they're welcome in any album.

ANOTHER winter has passed into history, and spring is coming in.
Soon many trees will be masses of blossom, early flowers will appear—and we will face picture opportunities that occur at no other season.

Any camera can be used for taking pictures of springtime blossoms.
Usually, the best blossom pictures are close-ups, and we should always avoid the temptation to include too much. A single graceful branch generally makes a better picture than a whole orchard.

For these close-ups, a portrait attachment will be needed if you use a box or fixed-focus folding camera.
Such an attachment is also helpful with focusing cameras. Another useful device is a short tape measure, since in a close-up the distance from camera to subject must be correct.
A pocket range finder is even more convenient for measuring distances.

Lighting is important. Straight overhead sunlight should be avoided.

Rather, light should come from the side, or somewhat from behind the blossoms, so that their form and translucency are emphasized. For this reason, the best time for taking blossom pictures are rather early morning or late afternoon. A slightly hazy day, with soft diffused sunlight, is ideal for making these blossom studies.

Any good "chrome" or "pan" film is suitable. For pictures that are to be enlarged, a fine-grained film is best. With "chrome" or "pan" film, satisfactory pictures can often be made without color filters, although a yellow filter such as the K-1 or K-2 may be used for even more truthful tone values and for darkening the sky behind white blossoms.

Blossoms make beautiful spring-like settings for informal portraits of friends, or family and children.
Collect as many of these pictures as you can this season, for they are always a welcome touch in any album.

SOUTH PARIS 14—GOULD 8

Gould dropped a return game to a greatly improved South Paris team Wednesday afternoon by a score of 14-8. The Paris team pounded out 19 hits most of which were made at opportune times.
They got away to a big lead in the first inning when they scored seven runs on six hits three errors, and a passed ball. Gould hit well in these early innings too and scored two in the first, three in the second, and two more in the third to tie up the game but could not keep up the pace set by the Paris batters.

Clough, R. Crockett and Tucker were the leading hitters for the locals. Clough had three hits including a double and a homer while R. Crockett and Tucker each had two doubles.

FRYEBURG 1-GOULD 0

Fryeburg knocked Gould off the top in the Oxford County League by defeating them in a pitchers' battle 1-0. The Gould batters were completely baffled by the left-handed slants of Howard, who would have pitched a no-hit game but for the bunt which Brown beat out in the fourth inning. The Fryeburg batters collected ten hits off Brooks but had difficulty in getting them in the pincches with the result that the only run they scored came in the first inning when the first man up singled, stole second and then scored on Lancaster's single. For the remainder of the game both sides were scoreless.

The Fryeburg battery was the life of their team. Both of these men are experienced and worked very well together and kept the whole team on their toes. Wentzell handled nine chances in the field for Gould without an error.

GORHAM 10-GOULD 6

A total of 32 base hits rattled off the bats of the two teams as Gorham pinned the second loss of the season on the locals.

The Gould team played lifeless ball and it is puzzling why the Gorham boys did not score more. The infield made eight errors, many of which were on easy chances and thus kept Crockett in trouble during the entire game. Only his steady pitching with men on bases prevented the score from mounting.

Tucker gave the local fans something to cheer about in the second inning when he raced in from left field and made a diving shoe-string catch and then doubled a runner off second base. Paulsen, the Gorham pitcher, had 10 assists in addition to pitching a nice heady game.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

FLY BY NIGHTS

WHENEVER Jeff Peters, the engaging hero in the book of O. Henry stories called "The Gentle Grafters," went into a new town and spread his samples of corn cure, ink remover, etc., out in front of him, he always took one precaution. He made note of how soon the next train left.

He had to. Jeff never knew what minute he'd have to fold up his kit and hot-foot it for the station, with policemen and angry customers in close pursuit.

He was that kind of business man. We call them "fly by nights." They still infest our cities and towns, but you never saw one of them advertise or build a lasting success.

The man who advertises for your patronage shows that he has foresight and courage. He wants to establish good will and to remain in business, and the best way for him to do these things is to send down roots and advertise so that you may come to him whenever you need what he sells.

Jeff Peters stands for the fringe parasite, hanging around the fringe of respectable society, dashing in and taking whatever he can, giving nothing in return, ready to flee at any minute, always expecting to have to flee.

The manufacturer or merchant who advertises, however, serves notice that he has become a member of the community and society. He announces that he intends to be your business friend and to warrant your patronage.

And you buy from such a man with perfect assurance that you will always get your money's worth. And you do.

It's possible for you to go into some stores and find merchandise which glib salesmen assure you is "just as good."

The fact that even they use advertised items as the standard of comparison, is proof enough that they recognize the permanent power of the force we call advertising.

You as a consumer get more for your money if, in all your buying, you avoid the Jeff Peterses of business and select whatever you need from the stores of merchants who advertise and who sell advertised goods.

A business organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, and in Washington the government has an elaborate Bureau of Standards.

You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing-power, every day of every year.

Clear Weather, Dry Roads Scene of Most Accidents

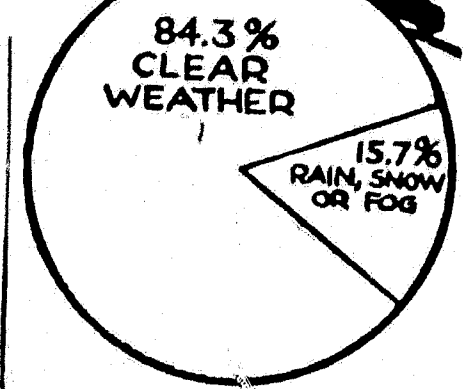

Old Man Weather is blamed for a great many things, but how responsible is he for automobile accidents?

The answer is given in the booklet "Lest We Regret," ninth annual safety booklet published by the Travelers Insurance Company in the interests of safe driving.

Last year there were about seven and a half times as many accidents in clear weather as there were during fog, rain, or snow. Out of a total of 29,300 fatal accidents in 1938, only 500 occurred in snowy weather, only 820 happened in fog and only 3,280 in rain. The remainder, 24,700 or nearly 85% of the total, occurred in clear weather.

Even more interesting is the analysis of actual road conditions prevailing in accidents, which reveals that 77% of all fatal accidents happened on dry roads. When roads are wet or slippery and driving seems to be dangerous, drivers apparently slow down and increase their alertness. On wet roads only 5,100 fatal accidents occurred, on icy roads only 1,080, and on snowy roads only 500.

The figures indicate that clear weather and dry roads encourage speeding, and speed is known to be the largest single factor in the annual slaughter on our highways.

Newest Thing Since the Skyscraper

THE WORLD'S MOST MODERN OFFICE BUILDING, said by architects to be the greatest contribution to business housing since the advent of the skyscraper, has just been occupied by the Johnson's Wax Company in Racine, Wis. Designed from a functional standpoint by Frank Lloyd Wright, famous architect, the building is the only one of its kind in the world and is attracting international attention. Built entirely without windows or glass brick, it utilizes 43 miles of glass tubing for lighting. More than 200 kinds of specially shaped bricks, molded to order, were used in construction. Heated through the floors, air conditioned, the building is expected to set the pace for office structures of the future. Even the furniture was specially designed by the architect. The above view shows the front entrance with the carport an integral part of the structure.
